Six cabins, one crew, and nothing left to arrange.

Kayhan 5 is a 28-metre ketch launched in 2007 with a straightforward purpose: fit twelve guests in six proper cabins, give each one a private bathroom, and let a good crew handle the rest. Two masters, two doubles, two twins — the kind of layout that suits three couples, a multi-generational family, or a group of friends who've agreed to stop planning and just go.

Every cabin has its own TV, DVD player, music system, and climate control. The masters come with minibars. The saloon connects to a satellite system, and the teak deck stretches fore and aft with enough room for everyone to find their own corner.

She carries a water maker, a dishwasher, and a joystick rudder system that makes anchoring in tight bays more precise than you'd expect from a traditional ketch. Roller sails go up when the wind is right. The rest of the time, a 450 HP IVECO keeps things moving.

Six cabins, twelve guests, and a teak deck that stretches from bow to stern — space enough that nobody has to negotiate.

LAYOUT

How the space works.

---

Kayhan 5 distributes six cabins across the lower deck in a classic ketch arrangement. One master sits aft, well separated from the rest, while the second master occupies the bow. Doubles and twins fill the centre, each with its own bathroom and direct access to the corridor. The saloon opens aft to the main deck dining area — no steps, no barriers.

2 MASTER CABINS

Double beds, en-suite with shower and WC, TV, DVD, music system, minibar, and individual climate control. Fore and aft placement for privacy.

2 DOUBLE CABINS

Double beds, en-suite bathrooms, TV, DVD, music system, and air conditioning. Located amidships for the steadiest ride at anchor.

2 TWIN CABINS

Twin beds, en-suite bathrooms, full entertainment system. Suited for children, friends, or anyone who appreciates having their own bed.
